NATIONAL MIGRANT REFERRAL PROJECT, INC. ALCOHOL PROGRAM

A COMPUTER-BASED CLINICAL REFERRAL SYSTEM

SYSTEM OVERVIEW MARCH, 1982

NMRP ALCOHOL PROGRAM

The National Migrant Referral Project (NMRP) is pleased to announce its Alcohol Program, a computer-based information system for Alcohol Programs throughout the nation. The NMRP/Alcohol Program is yet another component of the National Migrant Referral Project and represents NMRP's and the National Institute of Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism's (NIAAA) commitment to serve migrant and transient populations. The NMRP/Alcohol Program is designed to support continuity of care and treatment, and to eliminate the duplication of services to patients.

The NMRP/Alcohol Program has been developed with the guidance of a National Task Force and is available to Alcohol Programs at no cost.

For more information to participate in the program, please contact either of the following:

INTRODUCTION

A portion of the patient population served by the National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism (NIAAA) consists of migrant farmworkers and their families. The fact of migrancy, which when added to uncertain and short-lived employment, frequent separation from family, bare subsistence income, an often hostile environment, and a host of other pressure inducing life factors vastly compounds the rendering of NIAAA services to the migrant population.

One of the severest handicaps in serving the migrant patient is that of missing continuity. As the migrant traverses the United States, he arrives at each new stop with only the visible evidence of his way of life with him. For an NIAAA program to render effective service, it must undertake the arduous and pains-taking task of converting this evidence into that understanding that permits treatment to begin. Obtaining the base of understanding upon which treatment may proceed represents the commitment of substantial NIAAA program resources. Time upon time these resources are spent in vain, for the migrant and his problems must remain behind at the NIAAA program site. The NIAAA site encountering the migrant must then begin the process anew and thereby commit resources to gain an understanding which already resides in previous program sites. That such a situation needlessly consumes NIAAA program resources is self-evident. What is not self-evident about this lack of continuity of services is the negative effect on the client who must undergo repetitive intake procedures, evaluations and therapy. In addition to being needless, these repetitive activities may even eventuate in conflicting medication and treatment approaches.

Some of the problems of serving migrant patients can be alleviated simply by providing that information to each NIAAA site which enables the clinic to maintain continuity of service. The NMRP/Alcohol Program addresses the establishment of a system to provide such information.

In 1979 the Migrant Program of the Special Project Branch of the National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism (NIAAA) committed resources through an Inter-agency Agreement with the Health Services Administration (HSA)/Bureau of Community Health Services (BCHS) to serve migrant and seasonal farmworkers. The purpose of this agreement was to develop and integrate a network of alcoholism program providers into a computer-based referral system to support continuity of care and treatment, and to eliminate the duplication of services to migrant patients.

NIAAA has further recognized that such a program would be beneficial to Public Inebriate Programs (PIP) or any alcohol program that works with a transient population. The transient alcoholic often encounters those same problems faced by the migrant population. Therefore, this program will be extended to Alcohol Programs serving this population.

THE NATIONAL MIGRANT REFERRAL PROJECT/ALCOHOL PROGRAM NETWORK AND COMMUNICATION DESCRIPTION

The diagram below shows the basic elements of the system. Access to the central data base is provided through a central data exchange in Austin, Texas. The Austin Data Exchange (ADE) is operated by the National Migrant Referral Project, Inc., a private non-profit organization.

ADMINISTRATIVE DATA

The administrative data serves the following purposes:

- A. Identifies the patient
- B. Identifies the agency originating the data
- C. Tells what time period the data covers
- D. Describes administrative reasons for the patient/agency contact
- E. Highlights key historical critical factors

PROBLEM DEFINITION

The problem definition data permits your agency to:

- A. Enter the appropriate DSM Code
- B. Identify the basic presenting problems
- C. Describe the source of the presenting problem identification (i.e., therapist (th), patient (pt), support system (ss), or any combination thereof. Notice that this section provides a vehicle for expressing agreement or disagreement (among therapist, patient or support system) as to problem identification.
- D. A brief summary of problems by each party. This section does not imply a problem by problem summary.

TREATMENT DATA

The treatment data permits your agency to identify:

- A. The types of services rendered by the patient
- B. The intensity of services rendered
- C. The facilities within which the services were rendered
- D. The medications prescribed and/or provided
- E. The objectives set for each problem and whether the objectives were set by the therapist patient or both
- F. The outcome as seen by the therapist, patient or support system of the objectives
- G. Patient strengths
- H. The reason the patient left the program, and
- I. A certification that an active consent to release information through this system is on file (See Section 3 on the following Page)

MEDICAL DATA

Medical data on an NMRP/AP patient requested by a participating agency will be made available to authorized agency personnel.

Request for medical data should be directed to the ADE operator. The ADE operator will access the Migrant Health Data Base for medical information. If the medical information is available, the ADE operator will relay this via telephone or hard copy mailout.
